PROPHECY

By Edgar A. Guest

Who looks at life with open eyes
Must know that trouble yonder lies
But also at some future date
Some joy will make his heart elate.

The young must age, the old must die.

Gay lips in time must sadly sigh,
Yet youth is eager to grow old,
To claim the joys tomorrows hold.

We have known gladness in the past
And countless charms not meant to last,
And who dare say that it is in vain
To hope that peace shall come again?

Beyond us, waiting for us now,
Are treasures we shall find somehow,
And sorrows, though the path seem fair,
Which we shall surely have to bear.

So to the future let us go,
Faster each new day's freight to know,
Certain that down that unknown lane
We shall discover peace again.

Within the next two or three weeks thousands, yes, tens of thousands of young men and women will graduate from the high schools, private schools and universities of the nation. According to statistics only a ridiculously small proportion of these tens of thousands of graduates will ever bring honor or fame to either themselves or their friends and families.

The question naturally arises, who will be the successful ones; or—why is it that only a mere handful of these young men and women will rise above the masses and attain recognition?

There are many reasons for success; there are many reasons for failure. Let's look at just a few.

The reason why many will fail is because to the heights of success is ascended they know so little about themselves; their limitations, capacity and qualifications. Were this class of individuals given the opportunity to consult an able psychologist and have tests made to determine their natural introvert and extrovert complexes, they would save themselves unnecessary heartaches and years of endeavoring to something which they are not well adapted to do. The day must come when every graduate will be given an opportunity to take such tests and have specific counsel in connection with choosing their life's work.

Then there are the naturally weak. Those who take the easy way, and lack strength of character. This particular class need lots of encouragement, and if they do not get it—they fall back into the rut of the least resistance. Environment plays a conspicuous part in the lives of such individuals.

The reason why many of the graduates will carve their names high up on the Temple of Fame is because they have laid out a program for further education and development, in much the same manner as the captain of a ship lays out his course to sail the high seas. These particular graduates have had ingrained into their consciousness the necessity for determined and concentrated effort. With these graduates, there will be no turning back, nor subsiding of purpose. Like the mariners of the high seas, they will press on, ever hoping, ever dreaming of the success they shall attain in the days to come.

A great amny failures will come as the result of mental lassitude. General inability to keep on the road of Hard Work and High Efforts. These individuals will try all sorts of short cuts to evade what others have done and must do to attain high proficiency. They want success, but—they are not willing to work for it.

GOVERNORS OF 40 STATES WILL VISIT HERE

GOVERNOR ROLPH WILL ESCORT THE VISITORS HERE

Will Meet the Distinguished Guests at the Nevada State Line With An Automobile Caravan

July 23rd promises to be a Red Letter Day for Truckee and Lake Tahoe.

Governor James Rolph Jr. will meet the Governors of Forty States on the morning of July 23rd at the Nevada State Line with a motor caravan and escort them to Truckee and Lake Tahoe and then to Sacramento for their annual conference.

The desire on the part of Governor Rolph to show his distinguished guests the Truckee-Lake Tahoe-Sierra Region is a most signal honor for the people of this region.

Plans should start at once to get ready for a reception for the visitors.

It is urgently hoped that the merchants and business establishments in both Truckee and Tahoe City will decorate and make this the big gala event of the season.

A reception committee composed of the leading men and women of both Truckee and Tahoe City to greet the visiting governors would be in order.

According to present plans, Governor Rolph proposes to take his guests around the shores of Lake Tahoe and thence to Sacramento by way of Placerville. That night they will be guests at a dinner.

Business sessions will be held in the State Supreme Court Chambers in Sacramento on the morning of July 24th after which the Governors will journey to San Francisco.

NEW ALTAR WILL BE DEDICATED NEXT SUNDAY

A very beautiful new altar will be dedicated in the Church of the Immaculate Conception by Rev. P. J. Moran, pastor of the church, on next Sunday morning preceding the ten o'clock mass. The new altar is all hand made of golden oak, with striking pillars of the Romanesque.

In the lower center part of the altar is a most striking and beautiful picture of The Last Supper, the work of C. Fugel, a noted German artist. The soft shades of rich color of the picture blends in perfect harmony with the soft tones of brown of the sturdy golden oak which has long been symbolic of strength, durability and sturdiness.

The new altar has greatly beautified the Church of the Immaculate Conception, which has greatly increased under the guiding hand of the much loved and devoted Father Moran.

Father Moran has worked unceasingly since he took over the duties as pastor of the church a year ago and secured amazing results. His deep devotion and sincere enthusiasm has been felt by the entire community.

On next Sunday—Pentecost Sunday—a high mass with a special choir will follow the dedication.

SPORTSMEN UP IN ARMS OVER RAID ON FUNDS

Most Unfair Trick Ever Perpetrated By A State Legislature, Says Official

By HOMER L. ROBERTS
(California Press Service Writer)
Special to The Truckee Republican
SACRAMENTO, Cal., June 1—(CPS)—California sportsmen are preparing to fight to the finish the $350,000 "raid" upon funds of the state fish and game commission.

This "raid," which leading sportsmen insist will virtually cripple the commission's work for the next 2 years, was disclosed in a study of fish and game legislation at Sacramento this week.

The following facts were revealed:
1. The 1933-35 budget of the state as revised by the assembly ways and means committee, provided for the diversion of $305,000 in funds of the commission. This amount, it is believed, will later be placed in the general fund and used to balance the budget.

2. A $47,500 appropriation was made by the legislature out of fish and game funds to complete construction of the Russian river jetty in Sonoma county, despite the fact that the commission has already paid $50,000 toward this project which was all it ever agreed to pay.

"This is one of the most unfair tricks ever perpetrated by a state legislature upon the sportsmen of California," was the way one official of the fish and game commission expressed himself.

"It means that we must shut down some hatcheries, curtail game farm work and probably lay off some wardens."

The first move in opposition will be a test of the constitutionality of the act, according to an announcement by Charles P. Teevin of Hollywood, president of the California state council of the Izaak Walton League of America.

A committee of the league has already been named to file a test suit to determine the legality of the state's taking funds of a self-supporting department of government for general use, Teevin says.

If found to be unconstitutional, the money would be restored to the sportsmen. Moreover, funds from a large number of other state departments that are supported by license fees or taxes upon the industry they regulate, would likewise be restored.

OLD ICE HOUSE LEASED BY COSTA BURNS DOWN

The old National Ice Company ice house leased by Sam Costa and located two miles east of Truckee, caught fire in some mysterious manner about midnight last Thursday, and burnt down.

The blaze was discovered by Albert C. Pfander, special police officer for the Southern Pacific Company. He noticed the red flare in the sky, and quickly notified Deputy Sheriff Tom Dolley and the Forest Service Station and Sam Costa.

It is not known how the fire started, or whether or not the building was covered by insurance.

John Cello, age 58, a woodchopper of Tahoe City, was killed at 8 o'clock last Monday night on the Truckee-Lake Tahoe Road, six miles south of Truckee, near Robbers' Roost. George Backarich, age 24, who was driving the Chrysler roadster, in which the two were riding, was very seriously injured.

According to the police, the car was hitting a very high speed when the accident occurred, and it skidded over 150 feet, striking a big boulder.

Cello had his neck broken, and lived but an hour after the accident. His body was removed to Ocker's Undertaking Rooms in Truckee.

Backarich, a section hand on the Southern Pacific Railroad, was removed to his home in Tahoe City, but later taken to a hospital.

Officer Ernest Barrett of the California State Highway Patrol investigated the accident.

M. E. JEPSEN WILL BE GUEST SPEAKER HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATION EXERCISES

M. E. Jepsen, District Attorney for Washoe County, Nevada, will be the guest speaker at the Meadow Lake Union High School Graduation Exercises to be held on Friday evening, June 9th.

Mr. Jepsen is a very able and gifted speaker.

California counties are learning how to economize. Conclusive evidence of this fact was placed before governor Rolph in Sacramento this week in the annual report of county financial transactions.

The total expenditures of the 58 counties last year was $354,110,090 the report disclosed, or more than $17,000,000 less than the year previous.

Of this amount $458,774 was expended by Nevada county for governmental costs and agency transactions for the year, as compared with $438,080 in 1931.

A general statewide trend toward the reduction of governmental expenses, in keeping with economic conditions, was given as the major reason for the big saving to the taxpayers. Reduction in educational costs appeared to be responsible for much of the decrease, with $135,000,000 spent for this purpose as compared with $142,000,000 in 1931.

Debts contracted in previous years were responsible for a good share of the total expenditures, inasmuch as the counties paid out $14,930,255 in interest, and $15,170,320 toward the redemption of these debts.

Other phases of governmental expense for the 58 counties include: general government, $19,470,713; protection to person and property, $10,928,351; conservation of health, $4,331,335; highways, bridges, etc., $28,238,240; charities and corrections, $34,064,214, and trust funds, $13,076,627.

According to financial officials of the state of California, there is "every indication" that there will be still further reductions in these county expenditures, inasmuch as the 1931 legislature enacted numerous county government laws which provide for reduction in salaries and other county economies.

Approximately half of the total expenditures are credited to Los Angeles county, which spent $175,507,133. Alpine, California's "baby county" was the only one to get by with less than $100,000, having spent during the year only $55,881.

'SIX MONTHS TO GO,' HIGH SCHOOL PLAY, IS WELL RECEIVED

"Six Months To Go," a drama was presented by the Senior Class of the Meadow Lake Union High School last Friday evening at Masonic Hall to an enthusiastic audience.

The play—an interesting story of a happy-go-lucky youth who fights his way to success when he is at last awakened from his irresponsibility, was ably presented by the cast.

A feature of the evening was the music furnished by the Nevada City high school band under the direction of L. E. Sweeney.

The band, consisting of thirty pieces, played in between the acts and also gave a short concert after the performance.

The very artistic and attractive posters in the store windows announcing the play, were drawn by students of the high school.

The Truckee Post, American Legion, put on an exceptionally fine show in Legion Hall last Saturday evening, which was well patronized by persons from the Truckee-Lake Tahoe-Sierra Region.

A GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY

On the morning of July 23rd, Governor James Rolph Jr. will meet the Governors of forty states at the Nevada State line and escort them via motor to Lake Tahoe and thence to Sacramento for their annual conference.

Arrangements should be made—without delay—to welcome Governor Rolph and his distinguished guests as they pass thru Truckee.

The editor of the Truckee Republican is taking the liberty to suggest that we get an old stage coach and with the driver and passengers dressed up in accordance with the Days of '49, meet the Governor's Party at the outskirts of the town and escort the Party thru Truckee.

Truckee is known far and wide as the pioneer town of this region, and we believe that it would please the governor immensely to have some such a welcome extended to the visiting Governors. It might be possible to work out a program whereby the old stage might accompany the Party to Lake Tahoe, and a hold-up could be "pulled off" at Robbers' Roost, so as to show the visitors what it used to be like in this region back in the old days of '49.

At any rate, whether the above suggestion is acceptable or not, Truckee has a golden opportunity to do something worthwhile in the way of a welcome to Governor Rolph and his distinguished guests on July 23rd when they pass thru this region. Such an opportunity must be taken advantage of.

COUNTRY EDITING

James E. Nugent, editor-owner, Sierra Valley News at Loyalton, Calif., recently became reminiscent of his extraordinary experiences as a country newspaper editor for half a century. His amazing and highly entertaining article throwing the spot light on his colorful career makes a most interesting story, and we are publishing it in full so that our readers may enjoy it.

Jim Nugent is much more than a country newspaper editor; he is a philosopher and idealist. A man who has the courage to fight for what he believes is right at all times.

COUNTRY EDITORING By James E. Nugent

Fifty years ago I edited my first newspaper and the only thing I can distinctly remember of that issue is that the leading editorial was a boost for the town and county—and I was laughed at by a lot of old-timers, who said I was crazy to believe anything could be made of that country. And that experience has been repeated hundreds of times since—people without vision said nothing could be done.

Like most young editors, I wanted to reform a few things. The first I tackled was stopping the shooting up a town, with the result that one infuriated individual was going to "fill my belly full of bullets" as a Christmas present. He didn't do it but he was killed that evening without my having to bother.

Another experience was when I tried to induce a community to bore for oil (and I was not selling stock) and was told I was "off my base." Again a gang of grafters tried to break a community starting a sugar factory and after exposing them, was told that I was a public enemy. It cost the community $30,000—and one of the grafters committed suicide. I again was called a reactionary because I wouldn't boost for a smelter in a town where there wasn't any mine or ore—and a few grafters made some money while the community lost.

Within three years after I advocated the boring for oil in Brea canyon one of the best oil fields in California was developed.

During my career as editor I have always worked for the development of resources and the betterment of the community, and always found a certain element against unless there was some graft in it. With them I have never been popular.

In years gone by the editor was always a printer, set most of the type, probably pulled a Washington hand press and did many other things which the present day editor knows but little about. Today the papers are larger but much poorer in quality, as nearly all of them are turned out as if from a machine and present a sameness and lack of individuality which becomes tiresome. Editorially the metropolitan papers are a complete washout and their readers know that the opinions expressed therein are just "tailor-made" by the owner or big boss.

Probably the greatest satisfaction the country editor gets out of the business is seeing things done that he advocated. In one county I was the only booster for good roads, and today that county's main income is from tourist travel. Twenty years or more ago I put up a scrap for the completion of the Tioga road—and it was completed the next year. About the same time I fought for a highway east of the Sierra and from the 1911 legislature we secured an appropriation for El Camino Sierra, which is one of the highways the state keeps open all winter.

In another county that had no high school buildings there stands two fine buildings as monuments to the good work my papers advocated and did steadily labor for.

And these are but a few of the things that might be mentioned that would have gone wrong if it had not been for the "country editor."

The "home paper," country if you like, is the most popular paper in the world. A little paper tells the news of the town and country in which it is published and to the man or woman away from home the little town sheet is the one they want to read.

The editor of the little paper—at least in the past—has been the confidant of most of the community in which he lived. He seldom failed to say a good word for those who needed encouragement an thousands of times he overlooks the derelictions, so that the world hears nothing of them. He has no nose for scandal and does not play up the sinfulness of his neighbors and the community. Where there are wilful malefactors, who persist in defying the public he will probably expose them—not with malice but with a desire to stop the devilment.

Country editors are seldom good business men, although of late years there has grown up a breed of owners who could rightly be called "program" publishers. They are a scourge to the public and a curse to real newspaper men. They get out an "edition" for everything but dog fights and insist or blackmail business men to insert ads that cannot possibly do the advertisers any good.

Such men are not editors, but grafters—excesses on a calling that should be respectable.

If an editor says something about a man that is derogatory, that individual will never forget or forgive him. One time a fool politician wrote an article concerning a candidate which was so full of gush that it was nauseating. He ordered it printed, paid for it and I marked it "advertisement" and put a head, "Deliver Us From Our Friends." Our ways were separate and fifteen years afterwards I met him on the street and his first words were: "Deliver Us From Our Friends." He never forgave me.

The country editor would rather write something good about a man than anything bad, but editors do not "make" the news—that is what the public does, and if it is not good it is just too bad.

The metropolitan press, like the city merchant, plays for the "one-time sucker," while the country editor and country merchant must play to make a patron a steady customer.

The country editor meets many of his customers daily, finds out their wants and troubles, sympathizes with them in their sorrow and rejoices with them when they are prosperous. The country paper is human while the metropolitan press is just a manufactured, machine product. You read one city newspaper and you have read them all. The country paper is individual, while the city sheet is not.

I have neither fame or riches, nor am I sorry that I learned the printers' case or that I have followed a calling that at least is honorable and supplied excitement sufficient to drive away ennui.

Among the Woods

Landless as larks in space, I yet am richer
Than he with claim to marble-fronted halls.
Far, far around me reach the un-fenced woodlands
With earth and sky for walls.

Green sun-reflecting aisles are mine to roam on,
The gnarled and cloven peaks are mine to see.
The sinuous canyons offer shade and bird-song,
And blue skies mantle me.

Through the long afternoons of dream and silence
I lie on ferny beds; or dare lone heights
For windy miles, a lord who paces cloudland
On empire-winning flights.

And where the wind and mist and starlight wander, Safe from the shackled gold of mines and marts,
I own a kingdom, happier that it makes me
One of its humbler parts.

THE BEAUTY OF THE SKIN IS ENHANCED BY MASSAGE

By JACQUELINE HUNT

"OH, DEAR, oh, dear! I shall be late!" sighed the Rabbit in Alice in Wonderland, and so shall I—cut off as I was yesterday right in the midst of your mother's shampoo!

Well—if her hair is dry, use a light lather of mild soap, and for oily hair use a stronger soap like tar or tincture of green soap. When the hair is thoroughly clean, rinse it several times, having some ingredient in the final rinse to make it soft and lustrous. Vinegar is grand for dark hair, lemon juice for light hair, and ordinary laundry bluing for hair that is becoming silver.

Dry her hair by hand, in the air and sunlight if possible, and when still slightly damp, coax any natural waves and ringlets into place, or if they are absent, use a waving fluid and set the hair any way you want it to go with your fingers or water wave combs. While you are doing this consider the idea of a hair cut.

Straggling wisps of hair that escape around the edges of a coiffure often make a woman look old quicker than gray hair. Also, hair that is well up off the neck in the back will do much to make drooping cheeks and chin less noticeable. Meanwhile do the best you can with your wave and the way you tuck up the ends. Now slip a light net cap over the waved and ringletted locks and let your mother do some more relaxing while you give her a firming, refreshing facial.

A facial or beauty pack is especially beneficial for the older woman. It leaves the skin soft, glowing and stimulated and smoothes away the tired lines on her forehead and around her mouth. Begin by a thorough cleansing. A plentiful supply of quick melting cream is good for this, since facial packs tend to be drying.

If the skin is normal, a simple facial will probably be sufficient to leave her skin exquisite. After the cleansing, apply a richer, heavier cream (usually called "skin food" or "nourishing cream") and over this place a towel dipped in comfortably warm water. The towels must not be hot, as they will cause the muscles to sag and the pores to relax.

After ten minutes, remove the towels and any oil that remains on the surface of the skin, then give the skin a good patting with a pad of cotton dipped in skin tonic that has been chilled in the refrigerator overnight. Finally, dip a gauze strip in the cold tonic and bind it firmly under chin, over her cheeks, and over the head. Dip other strips and lay across the forehead and rest of the face. This treatment will tone lazy muscles and help keep the throat and chin shapely and the skin smooth.

Leave these cold bindings in place while you give your mother a manicure. If her nails appear to be brittle or thin, soak the fingertips in warm olive oil before filing and shaping them. Be sure that every speck of dead cuticle is removed and stains around the nails and fingertips removed with lemon juice or peroxide. Wash in warm soapy water, rinse and dry, then apply the polish.

POLITICAL PARADE

By Homer L. Roberts
(California Press Service Writer)
Special to The Truckee Republican

VET. A warm battle between Gov. ernor Rolph and the state legisla- ture is held likely when the law- makers reconvene here July 7.

The governor has used his veto power with more or less abandon, and unless all signs are wrong, efforts will be made to override most of his vetoes.

Rolph has taken the stand that all county government bills must be ap- proved by county boards of supervisors. The legis- lature feels that the senator or as- semblyman from the county is the best authority on changes in coun- ty government.

FEUD. The governor's bitterest hates are Senator J. M. Inman and Lieutenant Governor Frank F. Mer- riam.

He blames them for engineering the embarrassing senate investiga- tion into his administration—Inman for originating the idea, and Mer- riam for "packing" the committee with senators unfavorable to the ad- ministration.

Rolph never loses an opportunity to poke fun at the Sacramento sena- tor in office conferences, referring to him as the "wet" candidate for lieutenant governor.

CRITIC. Dudley Moulton, ousted state director of agriculture, voiced criticism of A. A. Brock, his suc- cessor, in the handling of bovine tuberculosis indemnities.

"When I was director the aver- age price paid for condemned cattle was $25," he said. "Now it is $14 or $15, and the taxpayer makes up the difference."

Moulton charged that A. B. Miller, chairman, and E. F. Forbes, member of the state board of agriculture, dictate the present indemnity policy.

JUDGE. Speculation was rife when Milton M. Golden, former deputy dis- trict attorney in San Francisco, "chiseled" his way into the late senate investigation committee's hearings with Governor Rolph's coun- ter-attacks against Senator Inman.

This was the time when the gov- ernor charged Inman with operat- ing a "pardon racket."

Old-timers wondered how Golden got into the picture. Now it is re- liably predicted that he will receive the next superior judgeship ap- pointment to be made by Rolph in San Francisco.

BUDGET. The tangled condition of California's state budget will be- come worse if Rolph vetoes A. B. 700, the $6,000,000 salary cut bill for state employees.

The budget was predicated upon

John Salla of Tahoe, about 65 years old, received head injuries in an automobile accident on Monday night six miles south of Truckee on the Tahoe-Truckee highway about 8 P. M. from which he died several hours later. He was riding with George Backrich who was also badly bruised and internally injured. The roadster in which they were riding, was said to have struck a large rock in the highway, rolled down an embankment pinning the men beneath, and burst into flames. It was badly wrecked. John Backrich, brother of George who followed in a second car rushed to their aid, releasing the men and extinguishing the flames. He was badly burned about the face and head. The injured men were returned to Truckee where Dr. J. H. Bernard gave them medical treatment and advised that Salla be taken to a hospital. He was brought back to Tahoe instead where he was found to be dead upon arrival. He leaves no known relatives. The body was taken to Truckee to be prepared for burial.

Harry Hendrickson of Lake Forest left on Monday for San Pedro where he will return to his former position with the Standard Oil Co. there.

Professor Henry Hinkle of Stanford was home last week end for a visit with his family.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Matchem are leaving this week for Idaho to visit relatives who reside there. Mr. Matchem, caretaker for the V. S. Mrs. H. O. Wahlefeld, accompanied by her brother E. Boedefeld, arrived at Homewood for a couple of weeks and will open the Murphy cottage for the summer season.

James McKay, prominent Reno man, who was a visitor at the Jack Matthews home recently in Tahoe, caught a native trout on one of his fishing expeditions on the Truckee river which weighed 7½ pounds.

Fishing season opened on the Lake on the 30th and many were on hand to try their luck. William Topp of Tahoe Cedars caught a fine 8 pounder near Sunnyside.

The "Bale of Hay" opened its doors to the summer public on Thursday night with a good crowd in attendance. Roy Andrews amused the crowd all evening with his little pet coyote, which he has taught to jump thru hoops and do numerous other tricks. About fifty persons enjoyed the opening.

Captain Griffith Bonner, recent Tahoe arrival, received word on Saturday that his St. Bernard Queen Marie (named after Queen Marie of Roumania, who is a personal friend) which weighs 175 pounds, had captured first place in four classes, and second in two others in the Hollywood Spring Dog Show. Two French poodles of his, De Clair and Santa Bris, valued at $1,000 each had also taken high honors winning first place in "breed" and "reserve," and first and second places in two other classes. Captain Bonner last week, thru Postmaster General John Farley, sent a special invitation to Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt, inviting her to pay a visit to Lake Tahoe during her coming tour of California.

The taxpayers of this district are urged to seriously consider Proposition No. 4 to be voted upon at the special election June 27th. California is the only state in the union which taxes private non-profit schools. The proposed amendment will relieve from taxation these schools, but makes no change in the law respecting schools operated for profit. It is estimated that it now costs each taxpayer $97.87 a year per pupil for present education, and $177.95 for each high school student. Private non-profit schools annually educate more than 100,000 children relieving the state of not less than $12,500,000 for education in addition to about $20,000,000 which would be required for new buildings to house these same children. Surely these private non-profit schools which render an educational service without cost to the government should not be penalized (under the guise of taxation) for rendering such public service. These schools save the state annually MORE THAN 25 TIMES the amount of the taxes of which the state proposes to relieve them. This movement is non-sectarian. So vote YES on Proposition No. 4 on June 27th.

Rye

I climbed the tower that rises
Amid the roofs of Rye,
And saw the salt sea marshes,
The glowing, golden marshes
Stretched out beneath the sky.

The great white clouds above me
Were drifting tranquilly,
And, underneath, a river,
A little silver river
Meandered toward the sea.

Rye's cobbled streets once echoed
To strife and pirate's tread,
But now it waits and slumbers—
All undisturbed it slumbers—
And dreams of peace instead.

NORDEN NEWS

By C. W. KRAMER

A fine motoring trip was enjoyed last week by Frank R. Bennett and friends when a valley trip was taken through Roseville and near by cities, returning by Placerville.

Louis Featsent of B&B 108 Tunnel Six has taken a few days of the hill to warm up a little in the vicinity of Red Bluff and Redding and to visit friends up the valley.

J. C. Lyon, wife of Norden Postmaster, is spending Decoration Day in Sacramento with relatives.

Mrs. Charles Vanderford of Sacramento recently arrived at Norden to make her home with her husband who is employed here. They are located at the Cochrane residence on Highway Terrace.

Virginia and Billy Kramer of Sacramento are enjoying themselves a Norden in snow sports of which they take a keen interest.

Wayne B. Sellick, editor of the Superior California section of the Sacramento Bee, with his wife and daughters Barbara and Leora, spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Sellick at their home on Woolworth Drive.

With fishing equipment costing several hundred dollars, included in the equipment are a $50.00 Heddon De Luxe Fly pole, best automatic reel and line and $200.00 worth of flies and all types of books and lines with ample supply of bait. Halford L. Hall of Norden is waiting for favorable conditions to set out and bring back the first full basket of many species that are in the nearby lakes and streams. Norden was about deserted on Decoration Day while the whole fishing contingent were in every direction to bring in a full basket.

Frank L. Rector, accompanied by his wife and two children, are motoring in the valley for a week's visiting relative. During his absence he is being relieved at Norden Telegraph Station by D. C. Rogers of Sacramento.

Displaying the seasons latest offering Johnny Backrich, formerly of Norden, passed through here Saturday to visit friends in Truckee and relatives at Tahoe. Johnny was pleasing to the eye from every point of view and should have caused quite a stir among the young beau brumms of the towns visited by him.

Still a resident of Norden and Roseville, Joseph Northey of B&B 108, has set the younger set thinking of why all the attraction in and about Sacramento of late where he was observed motoring about the city.

Recent visitors to San Francisco included Noble Robinson and his family and Joseph Casari, who were there over Decoration Day.

Mrs. Harvey Bush, accompanied by her sons James and Harvey Jr. were Roseville and Carmichael visitors over the holidays.

Mrs. William J. Sellick of Norden is visiting with relatives at Sacramento.

Recent arrivals at Norden included C. W. Young and B. Clausen of Sacramento representing the New York Life Insurance Company.

John Thorburn, Clarence Libby and Arthur Brown formed a fishing party that will cause quite a dissatisfaction among the wily trout at inhabit the still waters of Lake Spaulding and in all probability will return with ample proof of their skill.

T. E. Honey Eversult of B&B 08 Tunnel Six slipped quietly out of town last evening all bedecked in white cords and latest style outfit which reminds the residents that it which reminds the residents that summer is here. His destination was specified as being Sacramento where there is a charming Miss waiting his arrival.

Andrew Pfeiffer of B&B 103 Tunnel Six was so captivated with the exotic charms of one of the passengers on the afternoon train that he could not bear the conductor announce his station and was carried away, but he avers the walk back was well worth the while.

Travel over the highway the past several days has increased to such an extent that it gives one the opinion that tourist travel this coming season will surpass any recent one, so it might be well for all concerned to fill 'er up and be in readiness.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Libby motored to Sacramento last week end and returned feeling much better for the outing.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold G. Boomer and family held a picnic and fishing outing at Lake Spaulding recently.

Ong Fay, chef of the Norden eating car, was a recent Reno visitor.

Jesse P. Tilson of B&B 108 Tunnel Six has been showing some unusual attentiveness among the fair sex of Reno recently which his friends feel for his safety but which Jesse advises no alarm should be felt.

Clyde Burt and Floyd Briggs of Extra Gang No. 2 Norden are spending several days with their families in Sacramento.

Andrew Guidi, foreman of Extra Gang No. 2 Norden, is visiting with his family at Truckee.

Jack Sheriff Cressy of B&B 108 Tunnel Six spent several hours in Reno on business.

LOTS OF "SCHOONERS" GO OVER THE BAR DURING FIRST MONTH

SACRAMENTO Cal., June 1—(CPS)—Beer drinkers of California consumed 2,783,543 gallons of the amber brew during the first month of legalized beverage.

This was announced here by the state board of equalization, which pointed out that the 2-cent a gallon tax raised $55,670 to help balance the budget.

As the first month covered only the period from April 7 to 30, it is believed that approximately $70,000 a month in taxes will be raised from the beer tax.

Dictator Needed For California's Milk Industry

California's milk industry needs a dictator.

This is the conclusion of leaders in the industry and agricultural economists who have studied the havoc wrought by recent "milk wars" throughout the state.

In every such instance, order has been brought about only when the state government stepped in and exercised strong supervision.

California is one of the largest producers of market milk, ice cream and other dairy products in the nation, which makes state supervision all the more necessary. In the opinion of Dr. J. M. Tinley, associate agricultural economist at the University of California.

Last year a total of 127,767,117 gallons of market milk were processed and bottled in the various counties of the state. In Nevada county alone, 196,005 gallons were produced.

"It has been demonstrated that voluntary efforts to protect interests of producers, distributors and consumers are a failure," said Dr. Tinley. "California is not the only state facing such a problem. New York, Wisconsin, Ohio and Canada all have it. All these states are seriously considering putting the industry under state regulation as a public utility, just the same as gas and electricity."

During the last year more than 85,000,000 pounds of milk fat, equivalent to 2,400,000,000 pounds of milk were contained in milk and cream graded under the system now used in the manufacture of dairy products in California.

This program, which is self-supporting and affects milk produced in virtually every county of the state, assures consumers that the purity of their milk is gradually approaching a 100 per cent standard.

But it does not assure the producer of a reasonable return for the product, particularly when "milk wars" are raging. This is a marketing problem, and would be attacked by the "dictator," if and when he is appointed by the state.

WILL F. MORRISH EXPLAINS FARM RELIEF MEASURE

States Ruling of Bank of America In Regard To Mortgages Far Reaching

WILL F. MORRISH

Suspension of mortgage foreclosures on farm property of every character throughout California was announced today by Bank of America.

Will F. Morrish, President, explained that the move was made in order to offer temporary relief to the farmer until legislation offering permanent relief becomes operative.

"President Roosevelt has requested that farm mortgage creditors refrain from bringing foreclosure proceedings until the farm mortgage bill becomes operative," said Mr. Morrish. "The Bank of America is meeting the request of the President, and is going even farther in suspending foreclosure proceedings on all classes of real estate where the borrower is evidencing his good faith in attempting to work out his problem."

"The decision to withhold foreclosure proceedings during the present period of stress was reached not only through desire to conform to the President's program, but because of the conviction on the part of the bank's executive officers that the present uptrend in commodity prices will solve for many farmers the pressing problem of meeting their debt obligations."

"It has been estimated that recent advances in commodity prices added $15,000,000 to the value of the unsold portions of the 1932 crops in California. Should present prices hold, and there is evidence that they may do better than that, California farmers would profit another $75,000,000 to $100,000,000 on 1933 crops over 1932 values."

"With improved prices for farm products in view, and with federal plans for refinancing farm mortgages pending, our institution is devoting its efforts to seeing the farmer through his immediate difficulties."

Mr. Morrish explained that the ruling of the bank in regard to mortgages goes farther in extending relief to the farmer than any legislation so far enacted.

Nevada County Spent $53,794 For Charities

The cost of charities to California's 58 counties last year was $34,000,000, an increase of more than $5,000,000 over 1930.

This was brought out in a report compiled by the state to show the effect of a year of depression in boosting the costs of county governments.

Nevada county alone spent a total of $53,794 for charities and corrections during the year, the report showed.

"This money was spent for various purposes," said State Controller Ray L. Riley. "Some of it went for direct relief to the families of men who were out of work through no fault of their own."

"Some was used for the care of inmates in state homes for the feeble-minded, and recurring expenses. Under the head of charities and corrections was classed the cost of keeping children in state schools such as Preston, Whittier or Ventura, where they are taught useful trades, become useful citizens, and overcome criminal traits that sent them to reformatories."

"Care and examination of the insane accounted for $174,993 of the total expense. This involves the commitment of persons mentally afflicted. After they enter the hospital, the charge is against relatives of the person admitted, or against the state."

Other total costs of counties for charities and corrections were: County physician, $174,057; maintenance of county hospital and almshouses, $415,059; care of inmates, $9,028,229; care of indigents outside these hospitals, $7,659,536; care of children, $2,558,246; probation officer and courts $689,309; care of inmates in reform schools, $711,709; care of inmates in homes for the feeble-minded, $547,893; burial of indigents and other charities, $7,306,153, and outlays, $4,799,028.

Los Angeles county, with the largest population, had a total expense of $17,271,551 for charities and corrections in 1932. Alpine county was the lowest, with a total of only $81.70.

REAL ESTATE BROKERS MUST CONTINUE TO FILE A $2,000 BOND

SACRAMENTO, Cal., June 1—(CPS)—California real estate brokers must continue to file a bond "of $2,000 for licenses, until the new state law goes into effect.

This is the warning of Joseph P. Smith, state real estate commissioner, who says that although an act of the state legislature eliminating the bond was passed and signed by the governor, it will not become effective until 90 days after the legislature adjourns.

If the voters approve a constitutional amendment on the June 27 ballot, the act would go into effect 90 days after May 22 instead of adjournment, Smith explained.

The group will probably also take in the World's Fair at Chicago before returning to California.

Baked Mackerel

You will like this recipe for baked mackerel if you are at all fond of seafood. Split a good sized mackerel, clean and remove the head and tail—or have the fish dealer do it for you. Wash quickly in cold water, wipe dry and place in a buttered dripping pan, sprinkle with salt and pepper and dot all over generously with butter. Pour over the fish two-thirds of a cup of milk and bake in a hot oven for twenty-five minutes. Dip eighteen small oysters in three tablespoons of melted butter and one and one-half teaspoons of lemon juice. Cover the top of the baked mackerel with oysters just before serving. Sprinkle with sifted bread crumbs and place under the broiler for three minutes to brown. Serve at once.

Crabmeat Salad

Prepare individual rings of tomato jelly and fill the centers with a small amount of crabmeat salad. For one cup of flaked crabmeat use one-half cup raw, grated carrots, one-half cup diced celery, one-half cup finely shredded lettuce, one-half cup mayonnaise, salt, pepper and just a grating of onion to season. Blend the ingredients well and garnish with a little additional mayonnaise, paprika and watercress. This is an attractive and filling salad served as the main course for a luncheon, with bread and butter sandwiches, tea and lemon-meringue tarts.

MOONLIGHT NIGHTS may be welcomed by poets and sweethearts, but not by the fishermen who go fishing for mackerel. The men who go out for mackerel work only on dark or cloudy nights, when the silvery phosphorescence from the fish can guide the fishermen to their schools. When the moon plays on the water, it is impossible to see the glow from the mackerel, and therefore the fishermen have a "night off." Amateur cooks may not know that this accounts for the frequent fluctuations in the price of these luscious fish.

Mackerel is equally good when broiled, poached or baked with a stuffing or served with fancy sauces. A simple method of serving is poaching. Remove the bones from two good sized filets, place them in a shallow saucepan and cover with two cups of boiling salted water. Add two teaspoons of lemon juice or vin-

Milton

I pace the sounding sea-beach and behold
How the voluminous billows roll and run,
Upheaving and subsiding, while the sun
Shines through their sheeted emerald far unrolled
And the ninth wave, slow gathering fold by fold
All its loose-flowing garments into one,
Plunges upon the shore, and floods the dun
Pale reach of sands, and changes them to gold.
So in majestic cadence rise and fall
The mighty undulations of thy song,
O sightless bard, England's Maeonides!
And even and anon, high over all Uplifted, a ninth wave superb and strong,
Floods all the soul with its melodious seas.

Henry Ford
Dearborn, Mich.

May 22, 1933

I suppose that I may claim to be the first Ford Dealer. I not only made cars, but sold them and frequently delivered them myself.

The "drive away" is not new; often I have driven cars from Detroit to towns in Ohio or Indiana or Michigan to make delivery.

There were no good roads in those days, and the people where I drove had never seen a motor car before.

My first really enthusiastic customers were Country Doctors. They were the first to realize the value of dependable transportation to a widely scattered practice.

Even today I occasionally hear from some of those first Ford users. We had to teach local mechanics how to care for the cars. That is how Ford Service began, which is now found everywhere in the world.

We believed from the beginning that a sale does not complete our transaction with our customer—it creates upon us an obligation to see that our customer's car gives him service. Ford Dealers know their duty to the public in this respect.

I can say of Ford Dealers generally that they have been and are men of character and standing in their communities. Most of them have been with us many years, which indicates that we agree on basic business principles. The Company provides that the methods used to sell the Ford car are consistent with the self-respect of the Dealers who handle it.

The present Ford V-8 is the peak of our 30 years experience. We have never made a better car. Its eight-cylinder engine is powerful and smooth running. The car is admittedly very good looking and has comfortable riding qualities. It is economical in operation because of advanced engine design and low car weight. It is the fastest, roomiest and most powerful car we have ever built.

Working Man Will Benefit From This Act of Legislation

By JACK RICHARDS
(California Press Service Writer)
Special to The Truckee Republican
SACRAMENTO, Cal., June 1—(CPS)—A decent home for every working man and his family was assured by one act of the California state legislature.

It is what is known as the "Limited Dividend Housing Company" act, which permits the organization of such companies to borrow R. F. C. funds for replacement of obsolete housing areas in the state.

Every city has such areas, it is pointed out. Some are in the form of cheap tenement houses. Others are groups of unsightly and unsafe wooden shacks, beyond the railroad tracks.

When the new act gets under way thousands of workers will be employed in the building industry, and from $10,000,000 to $25,000,000 expended for replacing these areas with safe and sanitary low-cost dwellings and apartments, to be rented at reasonable rates.

In San Francisco and Los Angeles whole blocks are to be torn out and replaced with modern apartment development, costing more than $1,000,000 each, according to Paul H.

Watson, manager of the California Housing Association.

This association, organized by California business and civic leaders was active in sponsoring the bill introduced by Assemblyman George R. Bliss, Santa Barbara, Lucius Powers Jr., Fresno, and M. S. Meeker, Fresno. It is similar to measures already operating in New York, Ohio, Indiana and other states.

"As a protection to owners of present rental property, the act provides that Limited Dividend Housing companies may be permitted to build only where the state immigration and housing commission finds there is a need," said Watson.

"In this way the act would not add to the amount of housing already established, but will merely replace unsafe, unsanitary, deteriorated housing with carefully planned facilities on a basis that will increase income and taxable values not only of such properties, but also of the entire neighborhood."

GRASS VALLEY, Cal., June 1—(CPS)—C. R. Morris, local confectioner, takes no chances with the law.

He pleaded guilty before Justice Oscar Wnburn of driving 57 miles an hour in a 45 mile zone.

"I'm going to fine you $25," said the judge, "but I'll suspend $15 if you'll promise me you'll—"

"Never mind," said Norris, reaching for his wallet. "Here's the $25. I don't want anything hanging over my head."

MOJAVE, Cal., June 1—(CPS)—Lee Yim, Chinese restaurant owner "grubstaked" Billy Wheeler, a prospector who was "broke."

Wheeler located a new gold mine with a good quality of ore.

Now Lee Yim is half-owner of the mine, which has already shipped eight carloads of ore to Salt Lake.

AMAZING NEW TIRE

3 times safer—no extra cost

WHEN your car travels 40, 50 and 60-mile after mile—terrible heat is generated inside the tire. Rubber and fabric separate. A blister forms—and grows—until BANG! A blow-out! And the drag pulls your car off the road.

The Life-Saver Golden Ply, an amazing new feature of Goodrich Safety Silvertowns, resists intense heat. Rubber and fabric don't separate. Thus blisters don't form. Blow-outs are prevented by overcoming their cause.

At gruelling speeds on the world's fastest track, the new Goodrich Silvertown, with the Life-Saver Golden Ply, lasted three times as long as first quality tires that did not have this feature. These SILVERTOWNS never blew... for the Life-Saver Golden Ply refused to give. Proved themselves 3 times safer from blow-outs at high speeds.

And that isn't all. Tests with leading makes of tires prove that Goodrich Safety Silvertowns have the most skid-resisting tread on the road.

Let us show you this safest tire ever built—now three times safer from blow-outs. The new Goodrich Silvertowns cost no more than other standard tires... so this blow-out protection is FREE!

Proper Manners Strong Defense Against Diseases

By HOMER L. ROBERTS
(California Press Service Writer)
Special to The Truckee Republican
SACRAMENTO, Cal., June 1—
(CPS)—The use of polite manners is an instinctive defense against disease.

Such is the belief of Dr. Giles
S. Porter, state director of public health, who points out that our modern "etiquette" was acquired by people as a weapon against an unseen and until recently, an unknown enemy.

"Sneezing into another's face, for example, was regarded as rude long before scientists learned that such a practice really makes the mouth and nose of a fellow being a backstop for a flood of germs," he said.
"Proper use of handkerchiefs, too came into vogue before people learned that the great reservoir for certain contagious disease germs is the nose and throat of individuals."

Small boys learn conventional table manners with the greatest pains, only to discover as they grow older, that using knives, forks and spoons gets a step away from the possibility of carrying to the mouth on fingers unconsciously soiled heavy load of dangerous germs, the director explained.

"Long ago polite manners dictated the necessity of cleaning accumulated real estate from beneath the finger nails before presenting oneself to the family table or to friends or to the public. Likewise frequent bathing is a demand upon gentle folk which dates back into remote antiquity."

Society leaders rarely have small-pox, Dr. Porter added. It isn't polite. The disease is quite loathsome and nobody of reasonably high esthetic taste wishes to risk it.

"One never hears of smallpox taking root in the White House or in the governor's mansion," he added.
"People who come to occupy these residences would feel utterly disgraced with a smallpox quarantine sign tacked to the front door."

"Some day it will be quite impolite for a family to be visited by a case of diphtheria. The same amount of concern will be shown toward protecting children against this disease as the housewife now exhibits toward cleanliness and neatness in the home."

"God the Only Cause and Creson-Sermon Sunday, June 4, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church,

The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The Golden Text will be: "Great and marvellous are thy works, Lord God Almighty; just and true are thy ways, thou King of saints" (Rev.
15:3). Other Bible citations will include: "Lift up your hands in the sanctuary, and bless the Lord. The Lord that made heaven and earth bless thee out of Zion" (Ps. 134:
2, 3).

The Lesson-Sermon also will include the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy:
"God is individual, incorporeal. He is divine Principle Love, the universal cause, the only creator, and there is no other self-existence. He is all-inclusive and is reflected by all that is real and eternal and by nothing else." (p. 331).

The youth was treated at the

STATEWIDE POLICE BROADCASTING SYSTEM SUGGESTED BY NIELSEN

SACRAMENTO, Cal., June 1—
(CPS)—California traffic officers would be equipped with short-wave radio broadcasting and receiving sets, under a program to be investigated by an interim committee of the state legislature.

The inquiry, authorized in a resolution offered by Assemblyman Roy J. Nielsen, Sacramento, will cover the cost of maintaining a statewide system of broadcasting stations and the cost of installing the radio sets on motorcycles and automobiles operated by highway patrolmen.

Success of similar radio hook ups in other states resulted in the request for an investigation.

INTRODUCING A REAL NEIGHBOR AND FRIEND

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., June 1—(CPS)—Officer Frank Silva called at the home of D. Hernandez.

"Mr. Hernandez," he explained,
"the neighbors complain that your goat goes 'Ba-a-a! ba-a-a! all night long.'"

"Okay, I'll kill the goat," Hernandez replied.

"And they complain that your children have been marking their apartments."

"I'll take care of them, too," Hernandez concluded, leaving the rest to the patrolman's imagination.

Your Good Health

Infant Feeding and Its Relationship to Future Health

By CLAUD NORTH CHRISMAN, M.D.

FOR us who live in the temperate zone, the heated season is approaching. This is a time when all the deteriorating effects of heat upon food materials of every sort must be considered as well as the possible infection carried by flies insects. This particular summer will find many public prosana itation relaxed and many parents unable to provide the food and protection the babies should have. The custom of rearing infants upon artificial foods is growing for various reasons.

DR. CHRISMAN

methods are complicated by the pressure and diversions of modern life.

THE traffic in infants' foods has, it is true, been highly commercialized but we must give credit to the intensive efforts of the industry concerned for the results achieved. We now have a large number of very commendable foods available and there are variations in type and composition to suit every sort of subject if used under proper diagnosis. The American Medical Association exercises a very watchful care over all these food products, and acceptance by the Association's "Committee on Foods" is a goal to be fervently sought. Most of us still believe that fresh cow's milk properly modified and adapted to the individual infant's needs is the nearest approach to mother's milk.

TO SOME of us older physicians this seems a tragedy for the physical welfare of the coming generations. At the same time, we are faced by recent figures issued by the physical director of Johns Hopkins University who proves that this year's freshmen exceeded last year's new group by several points in height, weight, chest expansion, and strength endurance. Doubtless a large number of these lads were brought up through their infancy on other than mother's milk. We may yet find ourselves admitting that science can improve upon nature, especially when nature's chief aim of all foods is, of course, to afford just the nutritional elements called for in the growing infant. It is not only a study in approximating the character and quality of human milk but in meeting the needs of the individual child. This latter problem is the one that has led to the establishment of elaborately equipped research departments by the manufacturers and retailers of these important commodities. The modern mother needs to be a physiologist, a chemist, a pharmacist and a trained nurse at the same time she is sometimes unable to provide the actual sustenance for her offspring.

TRUCKEE PAYS HEROES TRIBUTE MEMORIAL DAY

Appropriate tribute to war heroes buried in the Catholic and Odd Fellows Cemeteries was paid Tuesday at Memorial Day Services conducted by Truckee Post, American Legion, the local lodge of Eagles and the school children.

A parade headed by the ten piece Legion Drum Corps, left Commercial Row promptly at 10:45 A. M. and consisted of the members of the legion, members of the local lodge of Eagles and school children.

The parade stopped for a moment at Steve Besio's to salute a war memorial plaque, and then proceeded to the Catholic cemetery where a legion wreath was placed on the grave of Comrade James Sala, after taps were blown. Father Moran read a short service. The parade then went on to the Odd Fellows Cemetery where Rev. P. H. Willis gave the invocation, followed by the school children singing "America" and "The Star Spangled Banner." Rev. Willis delivered the address of the day. Father Moran said benediction.

All the graves of the hero dead were decorated with flowers by the school children and the Eagles. The services were concluded with a volley by a firing squad under the direction of Gilbert Abernathy, and the sounding of taps by bugler Herbert Nichter.

The legionnaires made a beautiful showing in their uniforms, and high credit is due the drum corps.

The Eagles were the only fraternal organization to turn out, and added very much to the parade with their colors.

At the weekly dinner at the Wyethia Clubhouse the members of the Truckee Lions Club were entertained by Auntie Moore and Mr. A. C. Lasher, attorney of Reno. Mrs. M. J. (Auntie) Moore recited some of her own poems, much to the pleasure of the members.

Mr. Lasher gave a very interesting lecture on the life of Lincoln, in which he awakened a new interest in that most interesting character. Mr. Lasher is a most pleasing speaker.

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday were three big days for the local filling stations, cafes and drug stores on account of the heavy motor travel on all highways.

Carl Smith, inspector in charge of the Truckee station of the California State Registration Station, reports unusual heavy traffic for this time of the year.

Fisherman were out in full force over the Sunday-Monday-Memorial Day holidays. The Truckee River from Lake Tahoe to the Nevada State Line was well patronized. Many fine catches were reported.

The warm weather over the holiday brought many campers into the region. Quite a number pitched their camp along the Truckee River between Truckee and Lake Tahoe.

Lawyer E. E. Wood, who will establish a law office in the Masonic Building, has returned to Los Angeles with Mrs. Wood to close up their affairs in that city, and will return to Truckee and make their home here on or about June 15th.

The condition of Mrs. McDougall Smith, who was stricken with a heart attack several weeks ago, remains about the same.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Roquette are changing their residence from Commercial Row to River Street next to Besio's.

The weekly luncheon of the Truckee Chamber of Commerce will be held at Besio's on Monday, June 5th, at noon.

Yesterday was "sneak day" at the Meadow Lake Union High School. The senior students failed to show up.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Shuler and daughter have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Powell for several days. On Monday Mrs. Shuler caught a beautiful trout which weighed 4 pounds and six ounces of which she is justly proud.
